The Madisonian

We present to you . . . the Madisonian

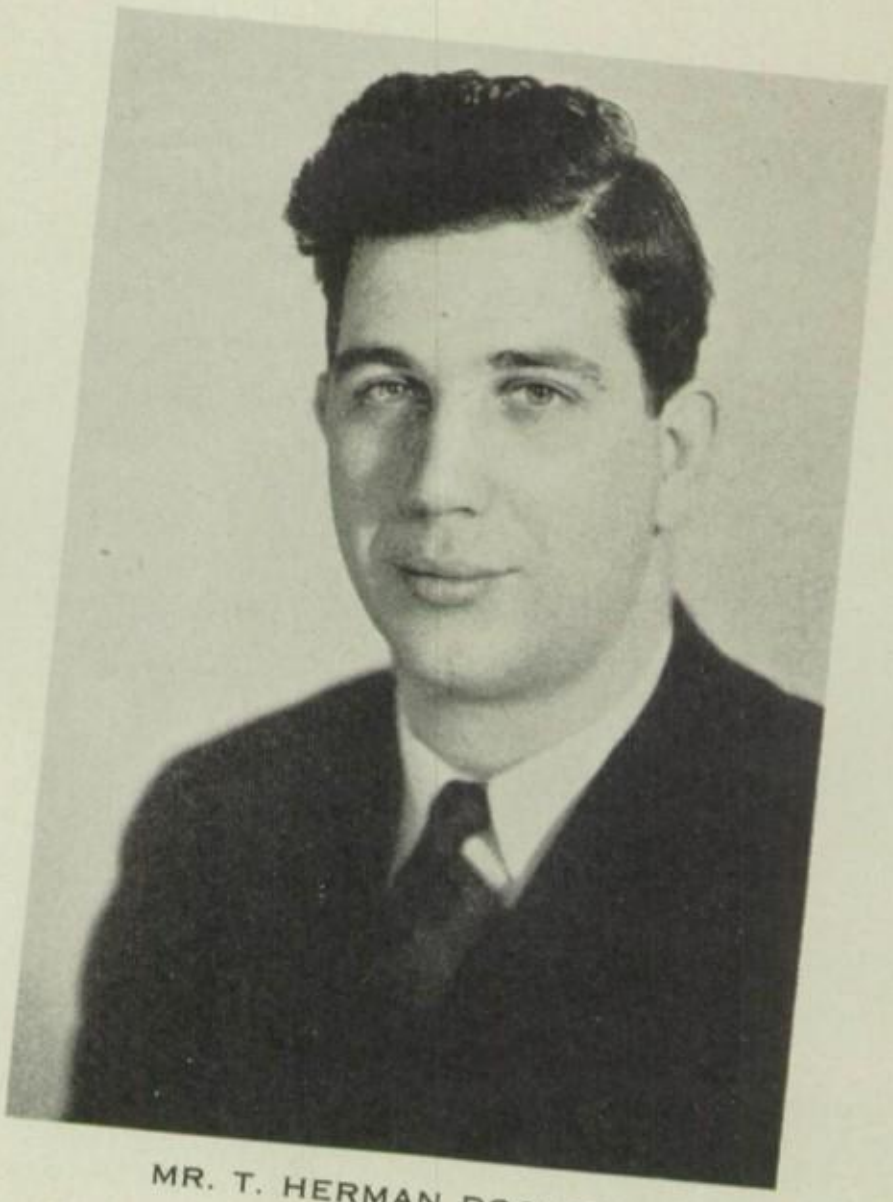
This book is a written record of the life within the walls of our alma mater. The annual staff has endeavored to present a clear accurate picture that will recall to your memory the classes of which you were a member and the activities in which you participated.

As our four years of high school are drawing to a close, we the Senior Class, realize more clearly the importance and truth of the motto we have chosen to represent our class. "The foundation of life is built with the bricks of character." With this thought we have selected as our theme— Construction.

It is our sincere desire that as you turn each succeeding page, happy memories will flash before your eyes— that in the coming years you will cherish this book as a dear friend of your high school days.

DEDICATION

MRS. LENORE DAUGHERTY



MR. T. HERMAN DOOLEY

It is the wish of the 1944 graduating class to honor Lenore Daugherty and Herman Dooley, by dedicating this Madisonian to them. Their co-operation and kind understanding has given us the incentive to make ours a successful class.

We thank them for the achievements we have accomplished under their direction— the Junior Play, Senior Play and Junior-Senior Prom, which were the outstanding events of our high school years.

The 1944 Madisonian Salutes You— Mrs. Daugherty and Mr. Dooley.

1944 HONOR ROLL

Mr. Dooley

Robert Conroy

Dick Bader

Richard Conroy

Charles Stewart

Pete Bautz

Bob Anthony

The Madisonian gives this page in tribute to our boys who have gone to serve our country and to those who will soon follow.

One faculty member, Mr. Dooley, director of music, and six of our classmates have already left us.

Mr. Dooley is in the Army Air Corps; Dick Bader, Charles Stewart are marine fighters; the Conroy twins, Dick and Bob, Pete Bautz, and Bob Anthony are in the Navy. Lewis Remy and Russell Hulit have enlisted in the Reserve Air Cadets and are eligible for service when they are eighteen.

The School Board has granted diplomas to the seniors who left during the school year, that they might be given credit for the work they were not privileged to complete.

We have not forgotten Bob Anthony speeding across the football field, the twins and Charles coming into home room just as the tardy bell rang, Dick's wolfing in the halls, Pete's ability to get into trouble, and who could forget T. Herman!

The best of luck, boys, and God grant that you may return home to a better and more peaceful world.

ALMA MATER

ALMA MATER SONG

Oh come let us unite in praise,
A song of Alma Mater raise.
We all delight to pass along
The praise of dear old Madison.
Years may come and days may roll,
Seasons pass, but on we go—
Lift our voice in word and song
To sing of loyal Madison.

SCHOOL SONG

Cheer, cheer, for Madison High
Cheer, till the sounds reach the sky
Green and White and hill top flight
That means a victory's in sight,
On, on to Madison's game
On, on to uphold her fame,
We stand round with heads unbowed
For our Ama Mater's name.

Freshman Writeups

September 7, 1943, ninety members of the freshman class quietly entered Madison High School. A number of the freshmen wished that they were back in grade school when they looked around and saw all the unfamiliar faces. Of course, they all wondered where to go; so when Mr. Miller and Mr. LaRue directed them into the auditorium, they were more at ease. After learning the rules of the school and the names of the teachers, they were told to go to their home room. A few days later Mr. Laribee had them all in their right seats in home room, but he wasn't always there to help the poor bewildered freshman when one wandered into the wrong room. Every year we have a freshman going into the wrong class room and finding that he had made a mistake, and this year was no exception. After a few weeks they knew their way around the building as well as the seniors.

The days went very fast and soon it was the day of the election of class officers. Even though they had never done this before, we believe they were wise to choose: Mrs. Ziroff to give them advice when they had a problem that was too much for them; Charles Campbell to lead them in their business meetings; Jack Herr to assist him; Robert Criblez to keep the minutes of the meetings; and Kenneth Gabor to take care of the collecting of dues.

The freshman class won the Hi-Spot subscription contest with sixty-six subscriptions. Charles Campbell was the highest in the class and also in the school. He sold twenty subscriptions and won four dollars.

The freshmen held a skating party in December. It was quite successful, that we know from seeing a few people walking very stiff the next day. But a party like that is enjoyed by everyone.

In February the freshman class helped to make the 1944 operetta a success. The Hoodoo dance, the Bakers dance, and the Broomstick dance were done by the freshman girls. Kenneth Gabor gave us some good laughs by playing Washington, the handyman.

Also in February the freshmen showed their intelligence by taking an I.Q. test.

March 17 was the date of the annual freshman-sophomore party. From all the rumors, it was really a super-duper party.

These are the most important events of this eventful year of school. I overheard one of the freshmen saying, "Just think we are sophomores now, boy, will we ever give it to those freshmen now." Yes, that is your privilege now, but don't forget you were freshmen once yourself.

Sophomore Writeups

To see the Sophomore class of "44" go struting and giggling down the halls, you would never know that last year they were a bashful and frightened group of Freshmen. Some are still a little timid; but just watch them gain in confidence and self assurance next year.

Each one in the Sophomore class has assumed his share of the work and co-operation that it takes to make a class a big hit with the other classes. Some have done more to see that their class was a success. The class officers were chosen by popular vote by the members of the class. These people were chosen with the thought in mind that they would be capable of fulfilling their respective offices, and they have proved that they have done their best.

The annual party was held with the Freshmen, March 17, 1944. Games and dancing were enjoyed during the evening. From all indications, every one reported a very good time.

Some of the Sophomore boys have proved that Madison couldn't do without them next year. Larry (Mole) Madden, Jack Erdenberger and Chuck Dunham played some varsity football this last fall. They really took some beating when they were initiated in the "M" Association; but are planning on beating the other fellows next fall. Boys, keep that good old Madison fight, we will be rooting for you. The Sophomores have also one tall and curly Jim McCollough, who has played varsity basketball. Jim was a good player, and we expect to see Jim next year, just reach up and drop the ball right into the basket. Don't forget, Jim, to take your morning exercises this summer; there might be a possibility of your growing several extra inches.

Gee, here we are talking all about the fellows and not even mentioning any girls. That's very unusual, isn't it?

The Sophomore girls have chosen many varied fields of study. Some have taken Home Economics, others have selected the academic course, while some are learning the tricks of a successful business woman. All of them realize that they will be the future business women and mothers of our country. Not in every land are women given the same equal rights as man. So, girls, prepare yourself for your future life. Don't wait until you are a senior. That may be too late!

The Sophomores have taken active part in all of our school activities; they have participated in every way. So keep that spirit next year, Sophomores. You as Juniors will be the basic foundation, and will set the examples for the new Freshmen.

Junior Writeups

The Freshmen who entered Madison High School in 1941 have come a long way. They have passed through the green stage to that of the sophisticated sophomore. Now this year, as a part of the upper classmen, they have proven that they will be capable of undertaking the duties of the Senior Class of 1945.

The Juniors owe much to the wise guidance of their advisors, Miss Eileen Stout and Mr. Foster Laribee, who have helped them through many a difficulty.

The first social event of the year was the Hallowe'en Party, sponsored by both the Junior and Senior classes. Those who survived the "Chamber of Horrors" and remained to dance to the music of the Campus Cats, will not soon forget this party.

However, the main event of the year for the Juniors was the Junior-Senior Prom given by the Juniors. Attended by much excitement, this affair took place at the Hotel Leland Ballroom. This class has taken the initiative in feting the Seniors outside Madison's own ballroom. On the night of March 24, everyone donned his best bib and tucker for the impressive event. This was the gala evening long anticipated and long remembered by all.

Their first class play presented early in May, proved that the Junior Class was not to be found lacking in talent. The play "Foot-Loose," a hilarious comedy, was a great success.

The Junior Class has contributed much to the well being of our school, not only in a social way but also in their scholastic achievements.

Their splendid cooperation with fellow schoolmates and loyal school spirit are appreciated.

To you Juniors, who will soon be taking your place as Seniors, we wish the best of luck throughout the remainder of your school days.

The Latin Club was organized in 1936 for the purpose of a more thorough knowledge of Roman customs, living, and language; and to enable the Latin students to become more interested in the subject. The only requirement for membership is to be enrolled in Latin or to have completed the course. The club meets once a month and presents a program pertaining to Latin. The membership of the club is fifty-two.

JUNIOR PLAY

Richard Early (Joe Stone) is vice president in one of the banks in Chicago's suburbs. His wife, Emily (Betty Janes), has devoted her life to the rearing of her four children, but in doing so has deprived them of many opportunities to think and act for themselves. This fact the children have come to recognize, and they start to rebel.

Mary (Donna Lissekam) and Bob (Donald Eggerton) are high school youngsters. Their brother, Dick (John Sauder) starts the rebellion when he decides to marry Jenny Malloy (Patricia Piper) before graduating from medical school. Hope (Clara Sauder), a social worker, defends Dick. She informs her mother that she would have been happier without parental interference.

The children persuade their parents to take a vacation and after much debating, they agree.

Delphie (Damaris Clark), the maid, is left in charge of the family and Hope is permitted to handle all financial affairs.

Bob buys a half interest in a car with his friend Buzz Daily (Robert Cooke). The two boys run into the limousine of the wealthy Mrs. Forester (Betty Hoover). She is very angry and threatens to sue the boys.

Delphie, the maid, is stricken with pneumonia and is sent to the hospital. Dick marries Jenny Maloy against his father's will. Mary meets a football player, Jack Milford (Dick Selby), from a neighboring college and decides to give up her former friend "Randy" Cunningham (David Conner).

Everything seems to be going wrong, but Hope secures the help of a young attorney, Sanford Welles (John Shriver), who settles the boys' case without legal action. Delphie returns home. Mary and her girl-friend, Miriam Walker (Amy Trease) finally straighten out their boy-friends; and Hope and the young attorney seem to be getting along quite well.

Mr. and Mrs. Early return home and find the household well managed. Mr. Early is happy that Dick disobeyed his orders and married Jenny Maloy. The children decide that it is better not to tell their parents all the troubles they had during their absence.

SENIOR PLAY

Dusty Lane (played by Richard Bader), a radio comedian temporarily without a sponsor, and Rufus Nichols (William Erdenberger), his gag writer, are bound for the Idlerest Sanitorium where Dusty is to recuperate from a recent nervous breakdown. The night is dark and stormy, and they mistake their directions, finally winding up at the Barrett Mansion, which is located on an isolated country road, fifteen miles from the nearest town. Here Nona Barrett (Joann Baer) mistakes Dusty for the body-guard she has sent for from a detective agency. Dusty falls for Nona and doesn't tell her of his mistake, thus letting himself in for a night of the wildest, thrill-packed adventure. For on this night, all the heirs to the estate of the late Daniel Barrett are assembling at the mansion to hear the reading of the will, and it isn't long before terror is let loose in the house. There are screams in the dark, an idiot boy (Russell Hulit) with murder in his heart, a hidden fortune of diamonds, and the mystery man in the black cape, later to be found out to be Buck McChesney (Wallace Campbell), who casts a shadow of death. There had been an argument between Buck and Estelle Barrett (Mildred Stenstrom) to kill her mother, Helen Barrett (Barbara Sauder). Further complications are provided by the arrival on the scene of Dusty's persistent ex-fiance, Queenie Snow (Maxine Garron), the movie actress and her colored maid Malignant Jones (Norma Kosmider)— whose comedy lines caused riots of laughter. Before morning Dusty has solved two murders, completely recovered from his breakdown and found romance with lovely Nona.

Mrs. Welsh (Janice McCollough), the house keeper, and Ted Howard (James Hunter) kept the audience in suspense in their search for the diamond necklace. But everything turned out all right with the help of the lawyer, Jonathan Vardon (Lewis Remy).

The play was under the direction of Mrs. Daugherty and Mr. Dooley. The prompters were Mary Alice Stimens, Gloria Beveridge and Martha Lemon. The stage managers were Russell Nieble, Bob Anthony and Joe Harfman and the business manager was Vivian McBride.

PROJECTIONISTS

The projectionists have helped to make our classes and the noon hour more interesting by showing a varied number of both educational and recreational pictures. Throughout the year Mr. Crabtree and the boys have combined their efforts to make this an unusual film schedule.

Most of the educational films were on science, history, and foreign countries. The four outstanding noon features were:

The Tower of London
Disputed Passage
Caught In the Draft
Union Pacific

CAMPUS CATS

During the month of February, 1943, Mr. T. Herman Dooley, music director at Madison, purchased a few swing orchestrations, and picked Bill Erdenberger, Charles Remy, Mildred Stenstrom, and Bill Jordan to play some of the parts. They practiced a few times during the summer vacation, but the results came in the fall when school started again. The orchestra was changed a little and new members were added. They were: Leo Eldridge, Glenn Wendland, Wayne Lanzen, Russell Hulit, Dick Wolford, Bill Wolford, Bob Hughes, and Herbie Eldridge.

More and more practice, new orchestrations led to their improvement. They chose "Wait For Me Mary" for their theme song, and Campus Cats for their name. The orchestra started its career by playing for dances in the school gym during Friday noons. Their first real showings were when they played for the Football Home-Coming Dance, and the Football Banquet.

In February, 1944, when Mr. Dooley was called to the service, Bill Erdenberger was given charge of the orchestra. The theme song was changed to "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise."

The orchestra has played for many different dances at Mansfield Senior High School, Johnny Appleseed, John Simpson, Greenwich High School, Playteen, and Madison High School. The Campus Cats also played on the WMAN radio station.

Since this picture was taken Wayne Lanzen has gone to the army, and Jake Schwarner has taken over the "traps."

The batons are twirled, a whistle is blown, and the Drum Major and Drum Majorettes proudly lead the band across the football field. The Drum Major blows another whistle and the band begins to play a strident march. Then we see the Drum Majorettes twirling their batons to make beautiful, silver, figure-eights as the band marches into a large letter "M."

The Drum Major and Drum Majorettes not only lead the band at football games, but also in street parades and other performances in which the band has a part.

The members of the Madison High School band enjoy the supervision of such fine leaders and proud to say, "They lead our band."

OUR BAND

One of the oustanding organizations of the school is the band. It has marched and played for all the home football games and has taken time to swing specialties for pep meetings and assemblies.

Included in its repertoire were standard marches, service songs, school songs, novelettes, and overtures.

At the close of the year the band played for the senior commencement which was held in the school auditorium. The processional number was "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar, and the selected number was "Caravan Overture" of Bennett.

Mr. T. Herman Dooley, was the instructor.

ORCHESTRA

Madison High School was favored several times during this year by the music of the school orchestra. The orchestra played for the Good Friday program, which was presented to the students. They also took part in other assemblies. The Junior play was introduced by music from the orchestra while a violin trio and other members, selected from the orchestra, played between acts. During the year many members have been sent out as soloists, and small group work to play for other organizations.

The student body was especially pleased when the choir presented a minstrel in the school auditorium on the third day of March. Among the songs which they sang were "Dixie" and "Uncle Ned." The choir also took part in the Easter program when they sang several Easter Hymns.

Those who are in the choir have a wonderful opportunity to advance in music.

Barton College, a small school for select young ladies and gentlemen, is thick in tradition planning for the annual operetta; but the head of the dramatic department has come down with the measles and is therefore unable to write the operetta this year. President Fussbutton announces that Anasthasuis Longword, Dean of men and head of the English department, and Samanthia Highnote, Dean of women and head of the music department will collaborate in writing the operetta. Their ideas are no more recent than the Elizabethans and Beethoven.

Between John Warren, and Mary Allen, they put across the idea to have "hotsy-totsy" music and a really modern operetta. John and Mary are pleased with the success of their efforts and Anasthasuis says the words for which Samanthia had waited for "since 1894."

This club was organized several years ago and since that time it has grown and become very active. Its main duties are to present letters and pins, and take care of the general business affairs of the music department.

MUSIC

MRS. CLAUDE EWING

The department of music has two teachers to thank for the fine attention they have given us this year. Mr. Dooley, who has been with us nearly two years, has helped the band members with their music notes and their marching. Among other things Mr. Dooley directed the choir in presenting a fine operetta in January, 1944. He has also improved the music department in every way. On February 15, 1944, Mr. Dooley was drafted into the army.

Mrs. Claude Ewing was very capable of taking his place as she attended Wittenberg, Ohio Northern, and Ohio State, and received majors in both music and English. Mrs. Ewing has taught music in several other schools and is highly recommended. Under her supervision she has interested several high school pupils in starting to play musical instruments.

Both of these teachers showed much interest in their work and they were greatly respected by the student body.

Many music students have also given much cooperation to the music department. They have received music awards for the work they have done. Band members who have participated three seasons in marching band have received large letter "M" 's with a "B" inside; music students who have made thirty points in music organizations have received lyre pins; and those who had participated in some music organization during high school have received an emblem of a lyre.

The following have received awards:

Pins— Joann Baer, Albert Betz, Betty Guthrie, Russell Hulit, James Hunter, Mary Logan, Charles Remy, Ruth Swisher.

HOMECOMING

SEATED: BARBARA SAUDER. STANDING: JANICE McCOL-LOUGH, JOANN BAER, MAXINE GARRON.

You can't have a home coming game without a queen and her attendants. The impressive ceremony took place at the half of the Madison-Galion game.

A large drum, carried across the foolball field by the attendants, was brought before the cheering section. After the alma mater and fanfare the drum was broken revealing our lovely Queen, Barbara Sauder.

The Queen carried a large bouquet of lavender and white chrysanthemums. The attendants, Joann Baer, Janice McCullough, and Maxine Garron had large yellow mums.

After the game, a dance was held in the school auditorium, which was decorated for the occasion. The Grand March was led by Queen Barbara and Captain Wallace Campbell.

The evening was spent dancing to the music of Nels Blocker.

CHEER LEADERS

These are the cheerleaders who have led us in cheers at our football and basketball games this past year. To have successful teams we must have the backing of the student body. Under their leadership we have had a good quality of cheering, not only in pep meetings but also at our games. We wish to congratulate them for their splendid work.

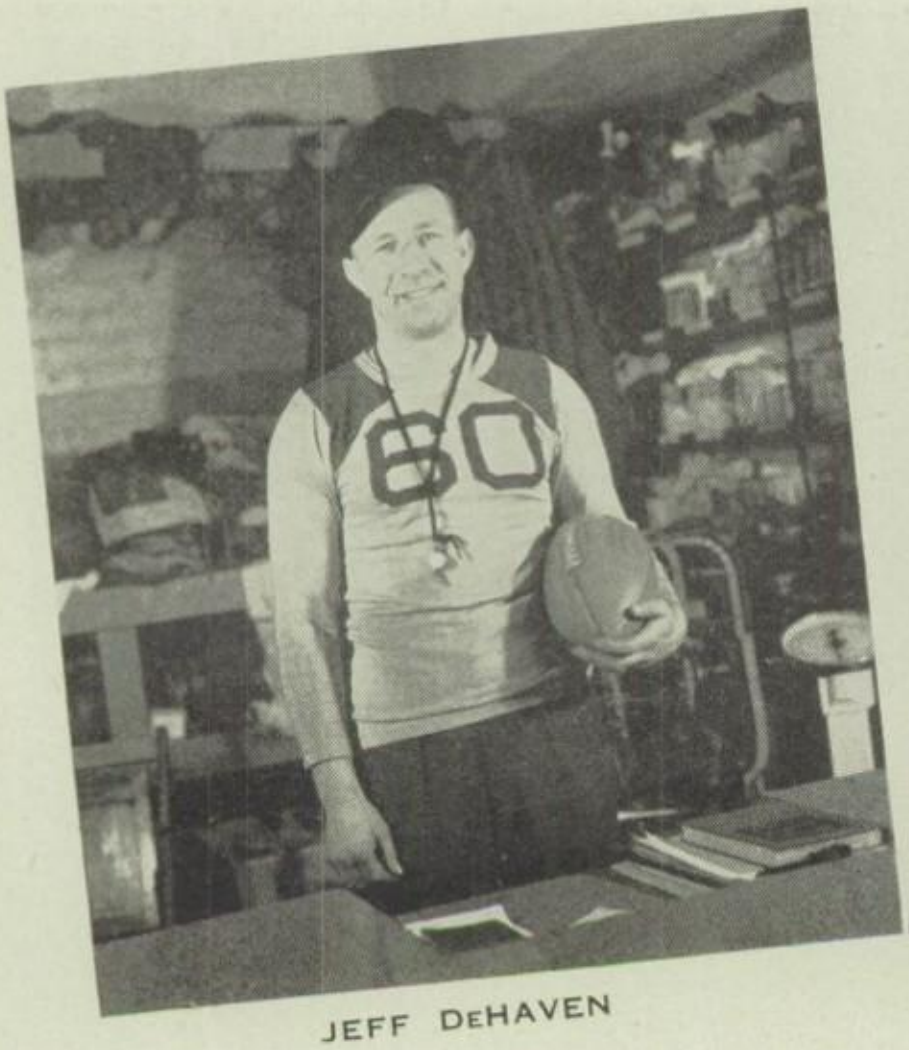
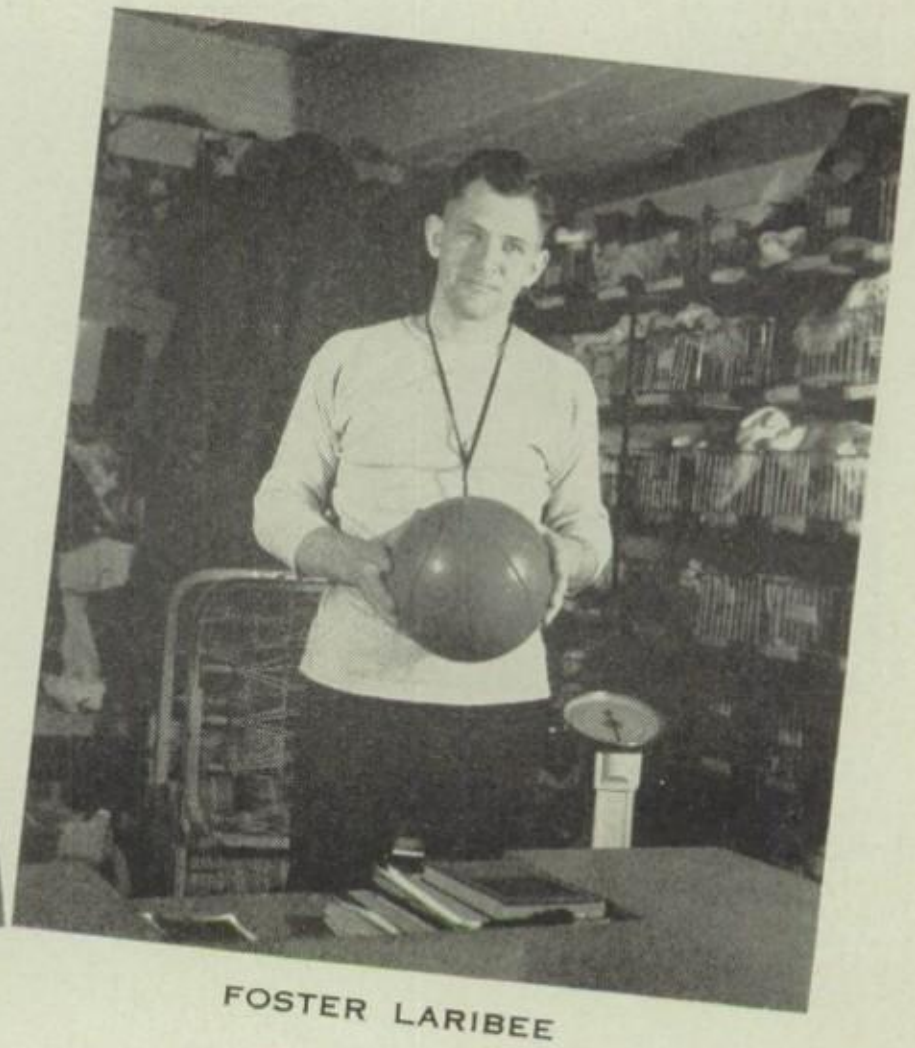
COACHES



JEFF DeHAVEN



FOSTER LARIBEE

Probably the most difficult of the positions to be filled by new faculty members this year was that of coach. The man who took the position must necessarily win the confidence and respect of boys who were accustomed to a certain style of playing and to one personality. It was not an easy assignment, but Madison is proud of the job that Coach DeHaven has done. She is proud of his sincerity, his good sportsmanship, his leadership, his quiet dignity, and his skillful coaching. The football season had some setbacks, but Madison began to hit her stride in basketball and we believe that she has a promising future in athletics. We give a vote of thanks to the man who has spent so much time and effort in maintaining the school's athletic standards.

His own expression, "The basketball reserves are really hot stuff," characterizes the work that Mr. Laribee has done with the second team this year. He has trained the underclassmen so thoroughly that they are quite capable of assuming key positions on the varsity squad next year.

Mr. Laribee has been an important figure in all pep meetings —his "oratory" has been one of the feature attractions. His special "boasts" and "predictions" have been invaluable in building up the morale of the cheering sections and in promoting good sportsmanship among our students at home and in competition with other schools.

He has endeared himself to the student body and is a typical example of an "all around good fellow."

FOOTBALL

This was Coach "Jeff" DeHaven's first football team at Madison. The Rams started slow this year, but soon developed into a fast alert team.

This year's Captain, Wally Campbell, and the rest of the team wish Coaches DeHaven and Laribee the best of luck throughout their coaching career or in any other profession they may follow in the years to come.

RAMS

Joe Harfman "Chosef"— Tackle

Joe was our work horse this year. He not only played every game, although he was injured many times, but also played many different positions. This was his third year on the varsity. Next year's team will miss Joe's hard blocking and tackling.

Charles Higgens "Burton"— Guard

Burton is a veteran football player and will be back next year to help his team to victory. Burton is a hard hitting, rugged player and likes to rough it up.

Charles Dunham "Charlie"— Tackle

Charlie is a type of player who likes to hit and be hit. The rougher the better. He earned his first letter this year as a sophomore, and should help to win those games next year.

Richard Conroy "Jim"— Back

Jim was our blocking back this year and proved that a tough job can be done. His first letter was earned this year. He is now in the U. S. Navy.

Robert Conroy "Bob"— End

Bob played hard hitting, heads-up, football this year as end. He is now in the U. S. Navy with his twin brother, Jim.

Harvey Smith "Smitty"— Guard

Smitty spent his first full year on the varsity this year. He has plenty of drive, fight, and team spirit. He worked hard to make the varsity and was rewarded many times over when he was elected football captain for next year.

John Schuttera "Big John"— Tackle

Big John was the big boy on our team. It was his first year on the varsity, but his weight proved to be valuable to the team. Big John won't be back next fall and we will miss him.

Richard Eckles "Pistol"— Back

This was Pistol's first year on the varsity but he turned out to be a hard running backfield man. We can expect big things from a man with his experience and fight.

Dick Bader "Doc"— Back

Dick was the quarterback who called all those touchdown plays last fall. Not only was Dick a good quarterback, but a neat runner and a good ball handler. This was his second year on the varsity and the team would have been a failure without his team spirit and fight.

Jack Erdenberger "Blue Eyes"— Back

Jack was a sophomore this year but proved himself to be a good varsity man. He was handicapped because he had to play many different positions.

Joe Stoner "Joey"— Back

Joey was one of our hard hitting backs this year. He won his first varsity letter this year and will be back next year to show better, hard hitting football.

Wally Snyder "Wally"— Mgr.

This was Wally's first year as Varsity Manager, he had little help all season but did a swell job. The team would be lost without his help.

Wally Campbell "Wally"— Tackle

Wally was this year's captain and was somewhat handicapped early in the season with a knee injury. He was right in there fighting until the last second.

Bob Anthony "Fleetfoot"— Back

Bob has been the fastest football player in the school since he enrolled. Bob did most of our scoring this year. He could really carry the mail and is now doing his bit in the U. S. Navy.

George Snyder "Whitey"— End

George was a hard running and blocking football player . This was Whitey's first year on the varsity. We will miss him next year on the football team. He will be eighteen this summer and plans to enlist in the Navy.

Jack Brightbill "Mick"— Guard

This was Mick's first year of varsity football at Madison. He is a Junior and held down the job as guard and tackle very well. Mick is a hard charging and aggressive defensive player.

Larry Madden "Mole"— Center

Mole played varsity center this year and did a good job of it in spite of the handicap that he is tall and lanky. Most centers are the heaviest men on the team. Watch Mole in the next two years.

BASKETBALL

John Shriver (Johnny)

Johnny was our pivot man this year and his height really helped get those rebounds. He was also second highest scorer on this year's team.

Jim McCollough (Hobo)

This was Jim's first year on the varsity and he proved to be one of Madison's better players. Watch his smoke next year.

Leo Eldrich (Leapin' Leo)

This was Leo's first year at Madison and he proved valuable, taking Shriver's place when he was out on fouls. Leo has himself a good spot on next year's team.

Wallace Snyder (Wally)

Wally Snyder was this year's varsity manager. He is one of the fellows who does all the preparing before the game and gets little credit. Wally has two more years as manager and to keep up his good work.

Richard Eckels (Pistol)

Pistol is a veteran letterman from last year. He was the highest scorer in the county and really was hot on one handed shots. Pistol will be back next year if Uncle Sam doesn't call him first.

Jack Selby (Jack)

Jack is an aggressive offense and defense player. He earned his first letter in basketball this year, but will be back next year to gain new heights in basketball.

Richard Selby (Dick)

Dick was an important cog in the basketball team this year. Dick also earned his first letter in basketball this season. He is a junoir and still has one more year to show his skill in baketball.

SECOND ROW: JACK ERDENBERGER, WALTER ARMSTRONG, JACK CLECKNER, RICHARD SCHUTTERA, DONALD ARMSTRONG, JACK RAKER, ROBERT STRANG, GWEN WILSON, MR. LARIBEE.

Coach Laribee's reserves got off to a hot start this season, but were cooled down in a hurry. They won the first five games and only two more of the remainder of the season. The purpose of the reserves, however, is not to win, but to develop material for the future varsity. Long hours of practice has developed the reserves into a promising team.

Outstanding Girl Athlete

"MILLIE"

Mildred Stenstrom was voted by the G. A. A. as the most outstanding girl athlete of the year. Not only has she shown good sportsmanship and athletic ability; but she has been a grand pal to every one.

The G. A. A. presented her with a white sport sweater for the active part she took in all girls' athletics. In addition to this Mildred was chosen as G. A. A. president during her senior year.

She participated in class basketball, volleyball, deck tennis, badminton, ping-pong, and was a member of the honor volleyball team for four year.

The Girls Athletic Association is an organization created among the girls of Madison High School to promote better sportsmanship and a more active interest in athletics.

This year they sponsored the Homecoming which was in October and had a "Play Night" in April.

GIRLS ATHLETICS

The G.A.A. board gave out many awards to the girls who earned them. Numerals were given for five hundred points, letters for one thousand, pins for fifteen hundred.

Some of the various sports which the girls have taken part in this year were volleyball, basketball, badminton, kittenball, and ping pong.

The volleyball games were played off as a tournament. Basketball was conducted somewhat differently from last year. This year we had our own individual teams of six and played the full length of the floor. In the past years each class had only one select team with independent teams. More girls turned out for basketball because it was more interesting than before.

The badminton tournament was played off in doubles. Twenty points were given for each game played, with fifty extra points for the champions and twenty-five for the runners-up.

The ping pong games were conducted much the same as the badminton tournament. The Junior and Senior champions were Donna and Wanda Lissekam, the Freshman and Sophomore chapions were Janet Rose and Margaret Bird, who were the final winners.

The girls went on hikes. These took place after school. They received twenty points for each hike they took part in.

This year the association sponsored the Homecoming which was in October.

On April 14, a ':play night" was held in the school gymnasium. They played different games and at the end of the evening enjoyed dancing.

This year the G.A.A. girls decided to give an emblem to the senior girl who had received the most points during her four years. They voted that the emblem should be a ram's head. This was awarded to Emily Pamer.

At a G.A.A. meeting the girls chose the outstanding Senior girl, who was Mildred Stenstrom.

We want to thank Mrs. Ziroff for all the patience she has shown toward the senior girls and for all the help that she has given us through our four years of high school.

CLASS POEM

Brightly eager, our knowledge meager
We entered these halls of youth.
Nonsense peeking, but always seeking
The fountain of life— The Truth.

Rightly learning, new ways discerning
We brightened our way with song.
Each day working, yet never shirking
The duty of life— March On.

Upward building, courage unyielding
We hastened to reach our goal.
Wisdom governing, newly discov'ring
The essence of life— The Soul.

Slightly tearful, wistfully cheerful
We stand— the construction crew.
Swiftly ending, our memories blending
In bidding you all— Adieu.

Remember this? It is the picture taken when we were a class of inexperienced freshmen back in 1941. This large group has slowly decreased until there are now only forty-nine of us receiving diplomas. From the beginning we were a class determined to make good, and that determination has made our class a success.

Yes, but— but— but mom— Aw, Mom, this sandwich won't keep me awake tonight. If Dagwood can eat them so can I. I'm going to bed and go right to sleep; and honest, Mom, I won't keep you awake by talking in my sleep. Oh, no Mom, I promise not to read any murder mysteries to give me bad dreams. Good night, Mom dear.

Ah, now to settle down with a good magazine. Gee, look at these modern cars. I wish I had one. (yawn) I wonder where I'll be ten years from now? That'll be in 1955. (yawn) Wonder if I'll have a car like that (yawn) or maybe even an airplane? (yawn) Sure, that's it (yawn), a helicopter. I can just see myself in one of those things. I wonder if (yawn) 1955 will have (yawn) automatic (yawn) or maybe even (yawn)— I'll float through the air with— ZZZ Whee ZZZ Wheeeee—

Oh, Jarvis, not on this roof top— that one over there, Jarvis, please grease the propellers on this helicopter— they squeak. Thank you, Jarvis. No, hand me the pogo stick and I'll meet you here in about two hours. I have some friends I want to see.

Well, here's Bill Erdenberger's place— ERDENBERGER'S TAVERN— "where the elite meet to eat." I guess I'll go in and get a coke!

Hi, Bill! Say, this is some place you have here. What sweet music your orchestra swings out! Isn't that Billsey Doats they are playing? What do I want? Oh, give me a coke and— say, isn't that Joanne Piper over there? What's she saying— Chewing gum, licorice pipes, and Dagwood sandwiches? Gimme a package of Chicklets candy coated chewing gum please, Joanne.

Oh, here comes the floor show. Who are the dancers? Well, I can see Martha Lemon, Norma Fletcher, there's Jean Cox, and on the end— why, it's Janet Culler. Yes, Sir, Bill, you've got a nice place but who is that sitting over there at the far table? No! Not the Senator Christ Reining and his lovely wife. Wasn't she the former Marjorie Bell? Well, the senator and his wife seem to be doing O.K, You know it was Senator Reining that turned in the new bill for the Senate vote a few weeks ago. It was a bill to simplify income taxes, but from what I hear I judge that it was bitterly opposed by some women senators, graduates of Madison High School. Don't you remember them— Vivian McBride, Eileen McMillen, and Frances Kirsch? Boy, there must have been some scrap there. Confidentially, Bill, Mr. Foster Laribee, their old government teacher, was among the spectators and he clapped the longest and the loudest for the girls. Yes, Mr. Laribee knows who's the "smartest and right the mostest." Well, so long, Bill, thanks for the coke— the ice tasted fine.

It's good to get out on the street again. Listen! it's music and someone's singing. It's coming from Carnegie Hall. I might as well go in. What does the program say? Today— Featuring Milred Stenstrom as guest conductor of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra. The guest singing star will be Miss Joann Baer. Why, it is Mildred and Mary Jo! Mildred with baton in hand and Mary Jo Baer with a voice well in hand. Gee, but the stage is big. The lights are so bright— captivating— that's what it is. What a combination, Joann Baer and pickles, relish, ham loaf, mustard, celery, cheese, and Carnegie Hall. What a sandwich!— What a sandwich!

What's the matter? My pogo stick— it's out of control. OOOOOF! Where am I? Emily Pamer is that you? Emily, where am I? China! ! Oh, you are kidding and say, you are a nurse, aren't you? But China, that's so far away from New York where I was just a minute ago. What are you doing here? I never knew you were a nurse. China— I can't believe it. Look, soldiers and they are coming this way. I thought the war was over. What do you mean by saying "Look a little closer?" Come on, run, you would think they were our sol— Dick Bader, or should I say Lieutenant Bader? Gee, whiz, what are you doing in China? In fact what am I doing in China? But Dick, what is your job here? You have these men under you. Some post war planning, headed by American Marines— Huh? Say, isn't that Charles Stewart over there? He's a Sergeant, I see. You two have enough medals pinned on your uniforms to make a tank. Some record I'll bet! Imagine Sergeant Charles Stewart and Lieutenant Dick Bader, United States Maarine Corps! Now I get it. Emily is the nurse so when ju-jit-su practice gets too tough, you'll have someone to "patch 'em up."

Say, isn't that an American swing band I hear coming from that building over there? Come on, let's go over. Wait, there's a sign out in front— STAGE DOOR CANTEEN— Don't tell me you have an American theater wing here in China. Look at all the sailors!! (pant, pant) Why, I know three of those sailors— Bob Anthony, Richard Conroy, and Robert Conroy. Look, each one of them has the Navy Cross. Why, of course, they were the three sailors that took a PT boat out and sank a Japanese destroyer. Too bad that Tojo had to pick that day to go out "boating."

Emily, isn't that Maxine Garron over there in the corner talking to that soldier? Is she the head hostess here? Oh, and she puts on all the entertainment too? You would think that Maxine would be married with all these servicemen around here. Oh, I see Emily, well, I just wanted to know. Oh, there are her assistants — Betty Gottfried, Mildred Finley, Janice Pugh, and Gladys Blackburn. Small world, isn't it? Well, carry on, Stage Door Canteen. I really must be going, Emily. Speaking of going, how do I get away from China? Here comes a mystic man. He looks as if he might have come from India, but he is an answer to a maiden's prayer. Why, James Roop!! Pray tell me, mystic man in your robe of stars and moons, will you send me back to New York? Ah, see the weird way he winds his hands— Swish— swish— swish.

Who are you? Where am I now? James didn't send me back to New York. I'm on a deserted South Sea Island. He probably got his directions mixed up. Oh, I know who you are— you're Betty Bowman. But what are you doing on a South Sea Island? What, showing tourists around? What can you see on a South Sea Island? Oh, that's different.

PROPHECY

Who's calling "Paper, paper?" Well if it isn't Wesley Willner. I might as well take one. HMM an independent newspaper edited by Gloria Beveridge, Inc. Our motto "Do unto others before they do unto you." Yep! that's Gloria all right. Here she comes now. Some place to have a newspaper, Gloria— on a South Sea Island. But as long as I'm here, how about pointing out some high spots in your paper?

Let's see, Lewis Addlesberger and Ralph Finney are working for the government. Chemists first class, I see. They are working on a new explosive for the government's use to rid the world of termites. My, but those termites are getting big these days.

Norma Kosmider, commonly known as Michael Rene to all her associates, has written a book. It is called "THREE TEARS AND A ROSE." Well, Gloria, you have a newsy paper even for being located in the South Sea Islands.

William Jordan has been appointed Secretary of Agriculture. He has also perfected a new type of fruit with the aid of his assistant, Lawrence Booze. The new type of plant called straw-orange is a combination of a strawberry and an oragne. Lawrence was given credit for the discovery while Bill Jordan introduced it.

Well, look at this will you— Wallace Campbell is a coach at Ohio State. Yes, football always was Wally's meat. But then Wally was always good at devouring meat.

I really hate to go, Gloria, but tell me, how does one get home? You know— New York. What! there is a plane out of here, right now? Where is it? Oh, here it comes. (swish) James Hunter is the pilot. You say he has a wife? Well, flying a transport plane and having a wife is no easy job. I mean it's an interesting occupation. Well, so long, Gloria.

New York does look good again, but that was a very short trip. Swish! he comes, and Swish! he goes.

There is a radio studio. I believe. I'll go in and find out what is going on. Then I must get back and meet Jarvis.

Well, if it isn't Russell Niebel and Russell Hulit. What kind of business are you boys conducting? Radio sponsors? But tell me boys, whom do you sponsor? Louie Remy, not the Louie "Frank Sinatra" Remy? Is he going to sing tonight? Oh, boy, I'm going to hear this. What is he going to sing, "All or Nothing at All?" Boy! I'll bet the girls will swoon on that one. Does he have to have a police escort to go home? Speaking of going home, to whom does he go home? A lawyer? I can't believe it. Oh, Janice McCollough. That's right, she is a lawyer; but I never thought that the high school romance would result in the marriage of the great Louie "Swoonatra" and the famous lawyer of the Benson, Benson, and Benson murder case.

Here comes Mary Albro. What does she do here? Not your secretary? Does she like her job? I'll bet she does.

Russell, isn't that Joe Harfman over there standing by the microphone? Oh, I see Joe and Louie are doing a command performance for the people of China. Well, that's quite a combination— Louie the singer and Joe the actor giving out with the command performance. How many performances do they give a week? Five in one week! They must be making money right and left. Look, there's the sound effect man. Why, he's Maurice Dickson. I never knew that he was sound effect man. That must be an interesting occupation. Gracious, look at all the beautiful gowns. This must be a television set. It's Mary Alice Stimens. Why, of course, she is the dress designer for your studio. Some of the gowns are really the work of a master. She must be a very creative person.

Ah, the show is on. By the way isn't that Jean Rinehart down there in the front row? I didn't know she was married. But I heard the other day that she was voted the most perfect housewife of "1955."

So long, Russell. Good luck in all your undertakings. I must be going. You see, I must meet Jarvis in a few minutes. Say, can that Louie Remy sing. I wish I could hear the entire program, but duty calls— so does Jarvis.

Ah, there is my helicopter on top of that roof, but I think I shall stop in at this restaurant for something to eat. JOE RADIO'S RESTAURANT is quite a place now. Hello, Joe, how are you? How is the food? It certainly smells good in here.

Here comes the waitress. My, but doesn't she have a cute uniform? Lucille Longshore! I never knew that you worked here. Well, I'll take a steak dinner. You mean I can only have a Dagwood sandwich? But I want more than that. All right, bring me a Dagwood sandwich with mustard and catsup and relish and onions. Before you go, Lucille, isn't that Mary Logan over there? You don't mean that she is that famous business woman that financed the big plastic corporation here in New York? She must be very successful because I heard she is nothing less than a millionaire.

I hope they hurry with that sandwich, I just have to meet Jarvis. I wonder who that person is over there at that table in the corner ? It seems I've seen her before. Why, of course, it's Naomi Shadel the girls' basketball champion. Why, I guess she has won so many cups that she has a trophy room in her home simply overflowing with them.

My sandwich at last. I guess I'll eat it on the way out. Now why would Jarvis put our helicopter on top of a hospital roof? I guess I'll have to go through the hospital. Mmmm this sandwich tastes good. What's that— "Doctor Sauder sur-ger-y" "Doctor Sauder call sur-ger-y." I wonder if they could mean Barbara Sauder. Oh, here she comes out of the operating room. I'll try and listen to what they are saying. "That was a magnificent operation, doctor. The patient will live. Brain surgery is a tricky profession."

Oh, oh, they caught me listening. She's coming after me with her knife. Got to run— Help! Help! Got to run, Jarvis Help!!---*---xxx&&---$$$$%%%.

(Groan) Mom-Help. She's after me with her knife.

Huh? Mom oh, Mom dear, I'm so glad to see you. Oh, no Mom I'm off Dagwood sandwiches for good.

Oh, what a dream, but better yet— What a Sandwich ! WHAT A SANDWICH!

HELP WANTED— MALE

By Phil Stack

I want a boy who doesn't think
That a girl should pet and a girl should drink;
I want a boy who doesn't drool
Like a poisoned pup in a vestibule;
I want a boy who can run a car
That doesn't stop at the nearest bar . . .
A boy whose stories are never shady,
A boy who's fit for a perfect lady!
(And I'll search and I'll search till I land the lad
For the dumbest girl friend I've ever had!)

Research for Better Living

The Westinghouse Home Economics Institute is located here in Mansfield. Its graduate home economists, cooking and homemaking technicians work continuously on "Research for Better Living." Their equipment and testing laboratories are the best available. All their work is done with scientific accuracy and practical homemaking experience

Before the war, the Home Economics Institute was concerned primarily with preparing instructions for the proper operation, care and use of electric appliances in the home. The Home Economists were really factory representatives of the homemaker.

Their wartime service is showing war workers how to serve balanced meals in spite of food shortages and rationing. They developed the Health-for-Victory program that has been adopted by more than 1800 war plants and other organizations. Local monthly meetings are held from coast to coast. More than 8,000,000 booklets on wartime food planning and preparation problems have been distributed.

The experience the Institute has had in contributing to the 30,000,000 pre-war appliances Westinghouse built stands as your assurance of ever finer electric home appliances.

When the old "gang" meets to eat,
They'll get a special treat,
Because Sutter's have the best of food,
And the old juke box gets you in the mood.

Cheeseburgers, steakburgers and all that's deluxe,
To come into Sutter's you don't need a tux.
The candy, the cokes, and all of the sundaes,
Chases away your sad and blue Mondays.

So for good things to eat.
When your old gang wants to meet,
Come on down to SUTTER'S,
It can't be beat.
